AI Anomaly Detection
A PyTorch autoencoder on a RunPod GPU checks every stock removal against the product's recent daily usage. Flags are for human review and never change stock.
1. Stock removed
An employee records a stock OUT on the Inventory page. The stock updates straight away.
2. Usage compared
In the background, the backend adds up today's usage and compares it with the last 30 days.
3. AI checks it
A small PyTorch autoencoder on a RunPod GPU scores how unusual it is.
4. A person decides
Unusual results are flagged here. Someone reviews them, and the review is logged.
AI anomaly alerts
Unusual stock usage flagged by the AI for a person to check
